

Integrity Analyst

August 2022

About the International Betting Integrity Association

The International Betting Integrity Association is the leading global voice on integrity for the licensed betting industry. Our members share a common goal of combating betting corruption to protect the integrity of sport and of their businesses.

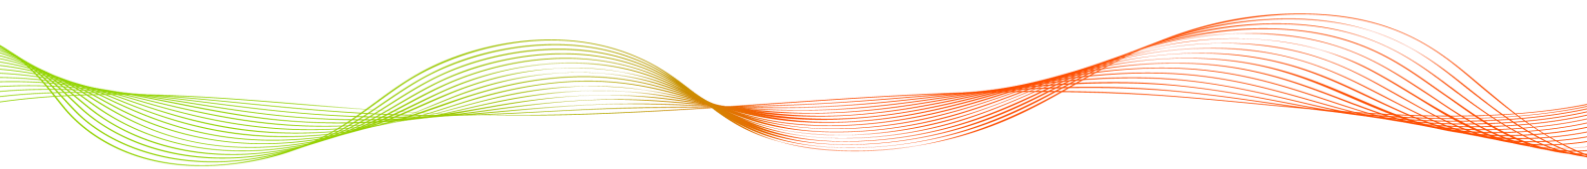

Established in 2005 and formerly known as ESSA (Sports Betting Integrity), we are a not for profit association whose members include many of the world's largest regulated betting operators, active across six continents. Members undergo a rigorous due diligence process and must adhere to our code of conduct committing them to responsible betting practices.

Overview

As part of a small team, the role is to review alerts and further develop the IBIA alert platform that monitors irregular and suspicious betting activity. This will involve managing communication and data provision with betting regulators, national integrity platforms and individual sports governing bodies.

Specific duties include;

- Manage the operator reporting process liaising with individual members on alert responses.
- To assess the evidence provided on irregular betting, seek additional information if required and decide on any action, such as reporting to stakeholders.
- To analyse and report quarterly on the reporting process, member responses, results and further action.
- Analysis of alerting trends, patterns and the identification of high-risk areas relevant to members market offering.
- To develop the functionality of the alert platform database.
- To develop and enhance relationships with integrity reporting officers within regulators, national platforms and sports governing bodies.,
- To help develop data protection policy and procedures for IBIA that cover the existing and future data sharing processes within IBIA, its members and sports governing bodies.
- Help ensure that IBIA operates as a compliant organization with regards to the GDPR and any other relevant data protection legislation.
- Securely record and store all data reporting actions undertaken by IBIA and/or its officers.
- To produce risk assessments for IBIA members on matches, teams, leagues, tournaments and sports to highlight elevated integrity risks.
- Work on ad-hoc projects and other work depending on the needs of the association and its members.

Due to the nature of this role, employment will consist of flexible working hours, which will include working weekends. It is envisaged that the role will be undertaken remotely and all necessary support and training will be provided.

Profile:

- At least three years' experience of working in the betting industry either within a trading, integrity or regulatory role.
- Strong working knowledge of various aspects of sports, betting and integrity.
- Widespread sporting knowledge, particularly tennis and football.
- Extensive knowledge of the global betting landscape.
- Experience of dealing with regulators, sports bodies and other stakeholders.
- Strong analytical skills in order to interpret betting patterns.
- Excellent prioritising skills, ability to multi-task and work under pressure
- Proactive and results-driven approach.
- Excellent written and spoken communication skills in English and knowledge of one other language, particularly French, German, Italian or Spanish, is desirable.
- Demonstrable experience of developing and implementing policies and procedures.
- Strong IT skills
- Basic project management and implementation skills
- Strong analytical and reporting skills.
- Motivated self-starter.
- UK or EU resident.

Please send your CV and covering letter to jobs@ibia.bet by Friday 18th September

